

Red Deer Criminal Lawyers

Red Deer Criminal Lawyers - There are several unique difficulties to companies because today's legal landscape has complicated regulatory controls. More and more, businesses and individuals are at risk of criminal investigations or facing regulatory charges.

Our Criminal and Regulatory Law Practice Group advises business clients on problems connected to quasi-criminal, regulatory and criminal issues. Our lawyers have many years of knowledge helping business clients and individuals to successfully navigate investigations, from the earliest stages all through to a hearing, trial or negotiated resolution.

It is vital for businesses to keep abreast of the ever-changing rules and regulations which govern business and industry. We can help you understand the complexities of government regulations and how they pertain to your enterprise. Our lawyers can advise about strategies to be able to ensure compliance or assist when a business, its officers or directors become the subject of an investigation or charge. Regulatory offenses can vary from those including unfair competition, taxation, excise and customs, wildlife, environmental protection, and occupational health and safety, to really serious criminal charges. We have the breadth and range of skill to handle all matters associated to criminal and regulatory law.

We understand that even the threat of regulatory, quasi-criminal or criminal charges can be damaging to your business. Call our lawyers for sound and prompt counsel from the beginning of an incident or investigation. Our aim is to work diligently in order to assist you prevent the expense and stigma of a protracted investigation. Our lawyers work in the timeliest and discrete way called for by such sensitive matters. Whenever a hearing or trial cannot be prevented, our experienced litigators would aggressively defend your interests.