

Personal Injury Law Firm Red Deer

Personal Injury Law Firm Red Deer - Whether your business is already a successful enterprise, a start up, or on the verge of commercializing a new technology, our Technology Law group can provide you with innovative legal solutions. Our company's value-based services will help you develop and promote innovative products.

Our lawyers offer help on a wide range of legal matters that affect the technology firms now. This can include all stages in the development of your technology business, particularly securing patent, copyright and trademark protection. We know the value of your intellectual property. We would carefully make joint venture agreements and financing arrangements to guarantee that you have the flexibility to manage your research efficiently and proceed to commercialization. We pay special attention to strategic alliances, licensing agreements and production arrangements to be able to ensure that you acquire the maximum benefit possible from your intellectual property.

For business arrangements for technology services, we provide special consideration. Among our services would include the preparing licensing agreements, software development and implementation agreements, software support and maintenance agreements, data centre and service bureau agreements, distribution and marketing agreements and hardware purchase and maintenance agreements. We perform project reviews and rescues, and offer suggestion regarding the legal aspects of e-commerce initiatives. We even offer guidance during the negotiation and implementation of agreements for the procurement of technology software and services.
