

Copyright Lawyer Red Deer

Copyright Lawyer Red Deer - If there are not sufficient systems to reduce risks are not in place, the complicated web of international laws and regulations governing competitive conduct in today's world, can leave companies facing different corporate compliance problems. The many consequences can include hefty fines for alleged price fixing, and jail time for those people whose companies have violated antitrust laws. Lawsuits by private people, like class action lawsuits, can result in damage or settlements awards totaling millions of dollars. Our office provides business clients proactive recommendation and effective representation to assist them establish corporate compliance systems to maximize their ability to compete legally and efficiently. Our competition/antitrust lawyers provide professional guidance in connection with complicated problems that can negatively impact a company's operations and ability to survive.

Our lawyers are knowledgeable and experienced in antitrust and competition law, marketing and advertising law. Our lawyers are frequently asked to write and speak regarding competition law topics for legal, business and academic audiences. We have knowledge in mergers, price fixing investigations, product pricing, packaging, labeling, distribution and advertising issues. Our litigators have represented clients before the courts, the Competition Tribunal and the Canadian International Trade Tribunal. Our lawyers draw upon various members throughout our office for knowledge in intellectual property, trade remedies, commercial and franchising problems connected with product distribution. We likewise assist in the defence of quasi-criminal and criminal allegations.