

Patent Lawyer Red Deer

Patent Lawyer Red Deer - The lawyers in our office specialize in intellectual property rights. Our office fully knows that many companies view their intellectual property as their most valuable asset. In order to attract and maintain market share, intellectual property is important. It defines your company in the market place, whether by way of trademarks that identify your product, patents that exclude competitors, or copyright that stops illegal replication of your intellectual assets.

We have years of knowledge in practical management and the effective resolution of intellectual property disputes at all levels of the courts. Our clients come from a wide range of trades, from start-ups to international companies.

Our office believes that the primary consideration should be the client's goals and what is sensible from a business viewpoint. Not each infringement of intellectual property rights essentially warrants a court action. Intellectual property litigation is expensive due to the complexity of comprehensive analysis of rights and using suitable experts. Where infringement disputes are simple and straight-forward, disputes usually can be solved through negotiated agreements with built in deterrence terms. In situations where court action is required, we follow methods which match a business-oriented method.

Our lawyers are skilled at acting on behalf of clients in intellectual property infringement claims. Whether you are an owner of intellectual property pursuing infringers, or you need defending against allegations of intellectual property infringement, our litigators have the experience to communicate to the courts the technical problems involved. We offer legal representation and suggestion in disputes associated to copyright, patents, trademarks, trade secrets, domain names, industrial design, interlocutory injunctions ("emergency" relief from infringement pending trial) and Anton Pillar Orders (civil search and seizure orders).
