

Red Deer Disability Lawyers

Red Deer Disability Lawyers - In order to deal with privacy issues that can effect business activities, our company's Privacy Law team can help our clients in the development of effective procedures. The area of Privacy law is quite complex and is constantly evolving. Our Privacy Law Team can help organizations know privacy laws, examine their potential impact and implement measures so as to guarantee compliance.

Our Team, with representation all around the country, has both the experience and resources to help businesses and organizations of whatever complexity and size to develop privacy strategies. To be able to assist clients manage privacy law issues successfully, our lawyers draw on professionals in other areas of our company, like for instance litigation, employment, business, marketing, e-commerce and administration. Our integrated group has the expertise and skill required in order to assist clients in different industries, like for instance retail, automotive, insurance and health.

Our services to organizations includes helping them to know the requirements of privacy laws; assess compliance requirements; design thorough audits of current information practices; define a corporate privacy strategy; develop employee and corporate privacy polices; develop function-specific documents like Internet privacy policies; create procedures and systems to manage access to information; prepare and adopt practices and procedures which guarantee corporate compliance at each level; respond to a regulatory review of privacy procedures; advise in cases of privacy or security breaches; and help in developing records retention policies. A particular area of concern is over employee privacy. In order to help with employee privacy issues, we have developed procedures and policies in conjunction with our Employment and Labour Law Group.