

Criminal Defence Lawyers Red Deer

Criminal Defence Lawyers Red Deer - Our firm specializes in offering legal advice in technology law for technology-related companies. The growing field of technology law now includes e-commerce, computer hardware and software, biotechnology, telecommunications, multimedia, pharmaceuticals, television and film, broadcasting, interactive media, and Web-related businesses. Today's technology businesses need professional recommendation suited to their unique needs.

Our firm concentrates on technology law in the area of mergers, public and private financings, acquisitions and divestitures, technology transfers and licensing agreements. Clients seek out our services and our technology law experts for particular advice connected to contract negotiation and other different transactions. Other services include intellectual property and employment audits, the preparation of agreements, such as employment and consulting agreements, and agreements related to technology promotion and distribution. Intellectual property protection concerns trade-marks, industrial designs, trade secrets, patents and copyrights. E-commerce issues include website development and infrastructure, Internet access, and maintenance agreements.

Our technology law practitioners work in conjunction with Securities, Intellectual Property, Commercial, tax & Trust and Labour & Employment lawyers to give recommendation to technology clients on several corporate problems. Technology law experts work with private venture funds which offer capital to emerging technology businesses.

In cases of infringement of our clients' trade secrets, patents, copyrights or trade-marks, technology litigation lawyers represent the interests of clients before all levels of court. Litigation lawyers act quickly to solve financing, employment, intellectual property, and contractual disputes before they escalate. The early identification of possible matters is a top priority. In order to avoid problematic issues connected to false and misleading marketing in addition to unjust trade practices, clients get recommendation concerning the legalities of advertising and the correct marketing of services and products. Advice is provided on such legal matters as trade-mark use and registration, privacy, packaging and labeling, as well as comparative advertising.
