

Real Estate Law Red Deer

Real Estate Law Red Deer - Before embarking on a real estate project, it is vital that you think about all factors as there are some areas of law and provincial jurisdictions that should be covered to be able to achieve your final goals. Skilled legal counsel, with strong connections in the trade, is important to creating an outcome with a minimum of complications.

In order to make certain that all of our clients needs are met, our firm has specialized sub-groups in financing, condominium development and sales, property development and leasing, as well as dispositions and acquisitions. Our goal is to offer advice which would allow our clients visions to prosper. Amongst the services we offer are creating assembly deals for large pension funds, assistance in obtaining an extensive real estate portfolio and solving environmental problems.

We have various clients in both the public and private sector. They represent all areas of real estate, from tenants, owners and entrepreneurs to investors, developers, purchasers and sellers. Our company will be pleased to represent you in whichever field of real estate law.
