

Disability Lawyers Red Deer

Disability Lawyers Red Deer - Our firm offers a no-charge consultation for people whose application has been rejected for Long Term Disability Benefits. If you still could not return to work and your benefits were paid and after that terminated, a lawyer could usually reinstate them. It is also possible to force the insurance firm to pay extra-contractual damages if they have denied or withheld your benefits.

Conditions such as fibromyalgia, chronic pain and depression are becoming increasingly more common. Hence disability claims based on these conditions are growing. Nevertheless, nearly all of these claims are normally rejected by insurance firms as the "invisible nature" of these issues. The majority of the disable people will often just give up. Through persistence it is likely for clients to get the benefits they actually deserve.