

Income Tax Lawyers in Red Deer

Income Tax Lawyers in Red Deer - Throughout the nation, our knowledgeable professionals provide services in issues concerning personal tax and estate planning, corporate tax, tax litigation, and commodity tax fields. We offer our clients advice and assistance for both domestic and international transactions.

Many of our members have experience serving private industry and government tax departments and usually make submissions to the government regarding tax laws. They are even current members of numerous professional organizations like for instance the International Fiscal Association and the Tax Foundation. Moreover, members of our firm normally give some educational lectures regarding taxation issues.

Our base of client's consist of many trust companies, financial institutions, mutual and pension funds, owner-operated businesses, accounting firms, foreign enterprises, trusts, estates, and charitable foundations. To ensure that the suggestion our firm offers our clients is both sensible and proactive, we discuss with other professionals in commercial, real estate, labour, and corporate law.

To ensure that the needs of our many client's are met, our company has focused our energies in all the aspects of tax laws.