

Red Deer Family Law

Red Deer Family Law - A great deal of emotional stress may be the result of a family breakup. Within this nation, family law consists of numerous various pieces and parts of legislation. Our family law lawyer would navigate the difficulties of family law for you, and assist you to understand the relevant legislation as it applies to your specific case.

Our objective is to reach amicable solutions while preventing the high costs connected with the court procedure. Nevertheless, at times negotiations do not achieve the desired outcome. If it becomes necessary, we will help you throughout each stage of the court procedure to attain the best possible outcome.

We give assistance associated to the preparation of marriage contracts and cohabitation agreements, divorce (contested or uncontested), negotiation and preparation of separation agreements, and resolution of problems concerning custody access, property division, child and spousal support.